The Jesuit Partnership

Celebrating a Decade of Generosity

The Jesuit Partnership celebrates extraordinary success by allocating funds to the ministries in greatest need. Benefactors have been directing their gifts to the Jesuit Partnership for ten years. In so doing, the provincial is able to channel their donations to the most needy Jesuit ministries.

President of St. Xavier High School in Cincinnati and Development Executive Board member, Fr. William Verbryke, SJ, (left) encourages alumni to give donations not only to their alma mater, but also to the Chicago Province Jesuit Partnership. "By doing this we show our alumni that St. X is part of something larger, namely the Society of Jesus. It also shows our support and appreciation for the Province. I am convinced that we all can benefit from our mutual cooperation." Here he is pictured with Development Executive Board members Mary Ellen Cody and Mary Lou Fox.
